Reasonable Reward

Goes Along With

Public Service

If this article appeals to you also when I needn't explain why I am reprinting it in today's column.

It's by William Feather, editor of Imperial Type Metal magazine. Quote —

A blotter has just now been placed on my desk. On the blotter is printed an article in which this paragraph appears: "If the idea of reward were not tied up with the hope of reward, how much of it would there be? I've wondered."

The author is not the first one who has wondered.

A beautiful ideal is back of the word service, as it is used by business men. Their thought is that they hope to promote the best interests of their customers in all their dealings. Their intention is to give buyers more than raw coal, or sugar, or lumber. They sell the grade and the quality of coal that the customer should have for a specific use. They deliver the coal when he wants it, and if it doesn't seem to burn right they may send a man to the customer's house or factory to inspect his boiler and teach the stoker proper methods of firing.

Of course, a reward is expected. By interesting himself in the welfare of his customers the business man hopes to establish a permanent account which will be proof against competition. Because such service is rendered with a material motive some people think that the whole proposition is unclean. They perceive no expression of the spiritual in business.

"When you have made your pile, get out of the dirt and do good," is their advice. This suggestion implies that dollars are always soiled and that the only way a man can do anything really fine in this world is by working for nothing.

I have never been in sympathy with this attitude because it makes Service and Doing Good an aristocratic function. We can't expect much in the way of a spiritual life if we have to wait for off hours to serve our fellow men. In our off hours most of us are either tired or too old to be good for much.

If the spiritual life can't be a part of everyday life, and if we can't think honestly when we are dealing with material things, then business is an occupation fit for crooks only.

Fortunately, as Spencer pointed out long ago, men can serve others at the same time that they are serving themselves, and they can promote the interests of others in the same hours that they are promoting the interests of themselves.

The effort to deny the importance of the individual to himself will never succeed. The motive of enlightened self-interest is the essential spark if there is to be human progress. We are made that way, and neither speeches nor poetry will change us.

Judge to Consider River Bridge Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Memphis city attorneys told Federal Judge Thomas C. Trimble today they will not produce any more evidence in the Harahan Bridge dispute.

Trimble now will take the case under advisement and reach a decision to be announced later.

Trimble's law clerk, Walter Pope, said today that the Memphis attorneys had advised Trimble by letter that they do not wish to produce additional proof of the existence of a contract concerning the bridge between Memphis and Crittenden County, Ark.

The dispute concerning the Harahan Bridge has been going on in federal courts since 1951. The city of Memphis wants the bridge roadways kept intact for use in the event of a national emergency. Crittenden County wants to dismantle the roadways to use the steel for other purposes.

The testimony concerning the existence of a contract between the two governmental units was given in hearings before Trimble here last month.

The Harahan Bridge has not been used since another newer span was built across the Mississippi River several years ago.

Caddo Indians Seek Payment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Caddo Indians want payment for Miller County, Ark.

The Indians, in an 1835 treaty, ceded all land west and south of the Red River in Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana to the United States.

Now they claim they didn't get paid what the land was worth.

Arkansas Land Commissioner Claude Rankin said yesterday a Washington attorney had asked for descriptions of the Arkansas land involved. He is preparing a suit against the federal government for the Caddos.

Rankin said the Arkansas land includes every inch of Miller County.

Housing Deals May Total Up to $500 Million

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said today his Senate Banking Committee will ask for $250,000 to investigate what he called enormous, excessive profits by some builders of rental housing insured by the government.

"It looks as though there may be as much as $500 million dollars involved in this whole business," he said.

Capehart said the banking committee plans to conduct an immediate investigation of some 7,000 post-World War II rental projects and all other phases of the government's many-sided housing program.

He said "There certainly would have to be collusion" in the reaping of the "windfall profits." He did not state exactly where the collusion would be found, but indicated it came in appraisals by the Federal Housing Administration far above the actual cost of constructing the big rental apartments.

Under the rental housing program, the government insures up to 90 per cent of private loans made to builders covering the cost of the project.

In another phase of the housing scandal, there have been charges that the FHA allowed unscrupulous home repair salesmen to cheat unsuspecting homeowners.

Complaints of abuses under the home improvement program, it has been disclosed, were made under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

Suspect apartment project financing occurred under the post-World War II "middle income" housing program, which expired in 1950.

The alleged irregularities and administrative laxities came to light Monday night when the White House abruptly announced that FHA Commissioner Guy T. O. Holaday had resigned the post to which President Eisenhower had named him a year ago.

Yesterday, Eisenhower named Norman F. Mason, a Massachusetts lumber dealer, to serve as acting FHA commissioner while the executive branch's parent Housing and Home Finance Agency and the FBI—pushes its probe.

Georgia Town Pitched Into Quandry

ADAIRSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — The will of a grateful native son who went West and got rich has pitched the city of Adairsville into an almost unbelievable municipal quandry.

The problem: how to spend $31,850.

For Adairsville, a little north Georgia town that straddles tourist-bearing U. S. 41, that is more than three times the annual income from taxes. Adairsville has a population of about 900.

Banker W. A. Graham, who moved away from here as a young man and amassed a seven-million-dollar fortune, willed the city $30,000 when he died at the age of 100 in Pryor, Okla. A court dispute over the will's validity was settled April 7 and the gift to Adairsville became final and legal.

The wealthy Oklahoma banker died more than two years ago and his gift has been growing ever since—$1,850 has been added as interest.

What do a mayor and City Council do when the problem becomes how to spend money rather than how to get it?

Mayor J. E. McKelvey of this poor little rich town hasn't found the answer, and his four-man City Council is equally undecided.

A Small Baby Is Something That Can Make a Coward Out of the Bravest Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Something has happened in our house that I am not sure I can face.

I would just as soon not talk about it at all—but it seems that there is nothing else I want to talk about more.

"The basic thing about you, Rover," said my wife, Frances, "is that you are a coward."

"I still can't figure how you went through the Second World War without catching jaundice which I understand turns people yellow. You were born yellow, and any physician who looked at you and didn't mistake you for a lemon was either near-sighted or color blind."

Then she sighed, and I thought added very graciously: "I don't doubt you have physical

'Wait and See' Policy on AEC Expansion

BY JACOB K. BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional groups took a wait-and-see attitude today toward the government's suspension and investigation of pioneer atomic scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer on security grounds.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), declining to elaborate, said he has affidavits purporting to show that Oppenheimer once was a member of the Communist party—an affiliation the scientist has categorically denied.

From two other persons familiar with the case came statements that the accusations against Oppenheimer had been reviewed and discounted years ago. In notifying him of his suspension, however, the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) spoke of "additional investigation" last year.

The AEC said in a formal statement yesterday that President Eisenhower had ordered "a blank wall" placed temporarily between Oppenheimer, one of the chief developers of the atomic bomb, and secret data to which he has had access for over 10 years.

Pending the report of an AEC investigating panel headed by former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray, Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-Iowa) fixed a hands-off policy for the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

Vaccination of Calves Completed

Next week the calfhood vaccination of herd replacement heifer calves for Bangs Disease control is expected to be completed for this season, stated County Agent Oliver L. Adams today. Since April 16 a total of 498 heifers in 131 herds in Hempstead County have been given the best protection available for the dreaded abortion disease by Vaccinator Joe Hamilton.

Hempstead County cattle producers are improving the quality of their herds through the production of home farm replacements that have improved breeding. Since the Bangs Disease vaccination program was begun on August 29, 1949, a total of 7,415 head of animals have been vaccinated. Hempstead County ranks fourth in the state of Arkansas in the total number of farm heifers given protection from abortion.

As heifers are given the best protection when vaccinated at the age of 4 to 8 months, it is important to advise County Agent Adams today if you have such unprotected animals. Vaccinator Hamilton is not to be back in Hempstead until late September when the present service is completed.

Conviction of Rep. Bramblett Is Stayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge Walter M. Bastian today stayed the conviction of Rep. Ernest K. Bramblett (R-Cal) on charges of lying about his office payroll.

Bastian granted a defense motion for "arrest of judgment." The decisions forces the government to appeal directly to the Supreme Court to uphold the conviction.

Bramblett's attorney, Edward B. Williams, based the motion on a claim that the 52-year-old congressman was convicted under a false statement statute that does not apply to the congressional branch of government.

Bastian said in a written opinion there is a "reasonable doubt as to the applicability of the law."

Bramblett was convicted Feb. 9 on seven counts of false statements about the employment of Mrs. Margaret M. Swanson of Arlington, Va., in his congressional office. Witnesses at trial said she did not work.

"Throughout the trial and subsequent proceedings," Bastian said, "the court has been in some doubt as to the applicability of the statute to the facts in this case."

Chiropractors Against Polio Program

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas chiropractors will be asked today to recommend that the anti-polio Salk vaccine inoculations be replaced with a program of chiropractic treatments.

School children in five Arkansas counties are to be inoculated with the serum this month in a nationwide program attempting to halt the disease.

Dr. F. H. Seubold of Fort Smith, chairman of the Arkansas Chiropractor Association's Resolutions Committee, said a resolution has been prepared opposing the serum because there is "too much disagreement among lay and professional people" about its effectiveness.

McCarthy Seeks Record on All Army Favors

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) disclosed today he has asked the Defense Department for a report showing how many congressmen and government officials have sought special treatment of servicemen since the end of World War II.

He did not say why he wanted the information. But it could be ammunition for the forthcoming Senate hearings on the Army's charge that McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn used pressure to seek favors for Pvt. David G. Schine.

Schine was, and Cohn still is, an aide to McCarthy on the Senate Investigating subcommittee. McCarthy has yielded chairmanship of the subcommittee temporarily so that other members may hold public hearings beginning next Thursday on the Army charge and McCarthy's counter-allegation that the Army tried to use Schine as a "hostage" to "blackmail" him.

McCarthy is in Arizona recovering from an attack of bronchitis. His office here made public a letter he wrote Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson on March 28. In it, McCarthy asked for a report on the number of requests for "special assignment and treatment of servicemen received by the various armed services from members of Congress and executive department officials since the end of World War II."

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate investigators awaited word from Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today on the rules and witnesses he wants to suggest for the forthcoming hearings on his fight with the Army.

The Senate Investigating subcommittee hopes to get this information — plus a written statement of McCarthy's side of the dispute — through its regular counsel, Roy M. Cohn. McCarthy is in Arizona suffering from bronchitis.

Cohn and Staff Director Francis P. Carr agreed yesterday to submit a written statement covering their part in McCarthy's row with the Army. They said they would ask McCarthy to prepare a similar document.

The subcommittee earlier requested the same information from the Army in an effort to limit the scope of the dispute before the televised public hearings get underway.

Still to be settled, however, is the role McCarthy himself will play in the inquiry. Although he has stepped down as chairman of the subcommittee for the investigation, he has insisted on the right to cross-examine witnesses against him.

There was some speculation that an effort might be made to have McCarthy get off the subcommittee entirely during the investigation. McCarthy's continued absence from the capital may force a further postponement of the public hearings, due to start April 22.

Temporary Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) said McCarthy told him by telephone he would probably return to Washington next Monday.

Autos Damaged in Accident Here

On West Division and S. Washington Streets yesterday autos driven by Mrs. Joe Erwin and Mrs. Amy Daniels collided with heavy damage to both vehicles, according to investigating city officers.

Investigating officers Tom Middlebrooks and Guy Downing said the youths had been to a store in Washington and purchased a gallon of coal oil. On crossing the Highway he ran in front of an auto driven by A. M. Hulsey of Washington.

The lad was brought to a local hospital for treatment. Dr. Lafferty attending physician, said his condition is critical and he is still unconscious.

No charges were filed said the officers.

Chicago Firm to Get Guard Job

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Chicago firm yesterday submitted the apparent low bids on alternate specifications for construction of buildings at the Air National Guard Headquarters in Fort Smith.

Engineering Construction Corp. bid $817,000 for brickface type construction of a hangar, warehouse, shops and other service buildings. This was $182,288.85 below the government estimate.

Col. Joe Clema, district engineer, said he would decide on which type of construction to award the contract.

The headquarters at the Fort Smith Municipal Airport will house the 14th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron.

He dashed up to the car and threw open the trunk. Inside, Froman said, were two children asleep in a bed fixed up in the trunk.

McClellan to Speak Friday at Hot Springs

HOT SPRING (AP) — U. S. Sen. John L. McClellan will speak at a "McClellan appreciation night" banquet here Friday.

It will be McClellan's first public appearance in Arkansas since former Gov. Sid McMath formally announced last Saturday that he would oppose the legislator in his bid for a third term.

At Little Rock, Phil Bac, McClellan's campaign manager for the summer Democratic primaries, said it is possible that the senator will "accept McMath's challenge" at the dinner.

The dinner, sponsored by the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce and the City of Hot Springs, is in appreciation of McClellan's efforts to prevent the closing of the Army-Navy Hospital. The Army recently withdrew an order closing the installation.

Similar "appreciation nights" have been held for Gov. Cherry and Rep. Norrell.

McClellan arrives in Little Rock from Washington Thursday night following his appearances here, he speaks at the Arkansas Wholesale Grocers convention in Little Rock on Saturday.

10-Nation Pact Plan to Combat Spread of Reds

PARIS (AP) — France joined with the United States today in declaring it would examine possibility of creating a coalition defense in Southwest Asia for the peace, security and freedom of this area.

The agreement was announced in a communique issued by the U.S. Secretary of State, Dulles. French Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault, after a day of talks concerning Asian hot spots, discussed later this month in Geneva conference.

PARIS (AP) — British proposals for military alliance with the United States against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia were accepted by French Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault in discussions today with U.S. Secretary of State, Dulles.

A 10-nation pact is being formed under the arrangements made in London yesterday by British and French Foreign Secretaries, Anthony Eden.

No official announcement of the pact had been issued by midday. But informants said Bidault provided the Dulles Eden pact because it recognizes the two great European powers with those of the United States.

This morning's talks centered entirely on the pact. Bidault, who is in London, said the pact was extremely important. He said the pact was a step toward the creation of a new world order, one in which the great powers are equal and the small powers are free.

The foreign ministers and secretaries of state from the United States, France, Britain, and the Netherlands met today to discuss the pact. The pact is being formed by the United States, France, Britain, the Netherlands, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India, Pakistan, and Ceylon.

Dulles later was to meet with French Foreign Minister, Georges Bidault, and with the ex-Emperor Bao Dai, chief of state of Viet Nam.

In London, the Conservative Party's Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, said the pact was a "great step" toward the creation of a new world order. He said the pact was a step toward the creation of a new world order, one in which the great powers are equal and the small powers are free.

Lawmen For Unification in Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) — A British move to weld a military alliance against communism in the Pacific was backed today from two Republican leaders.

But Sen. Mansfield of Mont. in a speech prepared for today's Senate session said that unless France grants independence to Indochina, the pact would be a "disaster."

Chairman Ferguson of the Senate Republican Policy Committee and Chairman William E. Jenner of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee presided over the debate.

Secretary of State Dulles said the pact was a "great step" toward the creation of a new world order. He said the pact was a step toward the creation of a new world order, one in which the great powers are equal and the small powers are free.

Lower Court May Hear Schirmer Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry says the State Ecclesiastical Medical Board has refused jurisdiction in the Jacob Sass Schirmer case and he will attempt to have the issue brought to court. Gentry is attempting to prove that Schirmer, operator of a Cornish cancer treatment clinic, obtained his eclectic medical license by "fraud and deceit."

The board, scheduled to hear charges on Monday, recessed indefinitely pending an Arkansas Supreme Court ruling on whether the investigation must be public.

Probers Seek Statement in Writing

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate investigators today sought a written statement of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's charges that the Army tried to "blackmail" him out of investigating Communists.

The Army earlier agreed to submit a detailed statement of its side in the angry fight with the Wisconsin Republican.

The Senate investigating subcommittee called its regular counsel, Roy M. Cohn, and its staff director, Francis P. Carr both involved in the dispute — to a closed meeting to request a preview of McCarthy's case.

McCarthy was still nursing a case of bronchitis in the Arizona sun but promised to be in touch with the subcommittee by telephoned Meanwhile, he suggested the group talk with Cohn and Carr and postpone its meeting with him until later.

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and his counsel, Joseph N. Welch, met for more than three hours with the subcommittee late yesterday and promised to produce a written and detailed list of charges against McCarthy and his aides. They also agreed to give a list of witnesses they want called and a synopsis of each one's expected testimony.

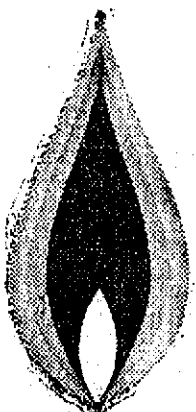

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel for the investigation, said the main issue in the dispute were set — the Army's charge that the Army tried to "blackmail" him to drop his Red probe of the service.
